

The contractor/consultant will be directed to do the analysis of potential improvements based on all upgrades meeting or exceeding the standards for lighting, envelope, HVAC and service water heater

C.

Should the actual savings, as determined through measurement and verification, if selected, as indicated above, and adjusted for changes in the operations of the business and by outside factors (i.e. weather), not equal at least 90 percent of the estimated